This conference will focus on how the EU’s investment law and policy is perceived in other parts of the world. This is in contrast with the usual introspective approach of most investment law events held in Europe. Inviting the perspectives from outside the EU will enable the participants to gain a more realistic view on the impact of the EU’s investment policy so far.

The conference will cover topics such as:

- the impact of Brexit on the EU’s investment policy;
- the interaction between tax incentives, EU state aid and EU investment policy;
- the Asian perspectives on the EU’s investment policy;
- perspectives on the EU’s investment policy from its European neighbours.
